

A subquery is a query contained within another query's lambda expression.